Melissae

Dearest Larvae,

My name is Melissae and I am the spirit of the Bee's! That presence who is Queen and collective consciousness of the ancient body of Bee's which have been present almost before the beginning of time here on Earth. I come to you for many reasons, because I recognise that you might be one of those who might better aid my cause of survival, because I recognise the powerful changes that are due to take place in your life, because I sense in you a need for the knowledge and power that I possess. Because of who you have been and the fond memories I share with you from these ancient times. I come to you so that I may help you and I come to you so that I might petition help. I come in love and light and truth and with hope that you might feel and here the true nature of my word.

As you know, I am sure, the Bee's are dyeing and their death, if it is allowed to occur in full, will spell the end, will bring the death of all of mankind. There are in truth many reasons why this is so, we are not a delicate species but in truth robust but we can no longer endure the onslaught of intrusive radio waves, pesticides, killer mites, let alone the selfish and abusive ways we have been used by man. Our precious treasures stolen again and again without thought of exchange or return. These things have then conspired and now we succumb, falling foul of this great weight, struggling to survive, struggling to endure. However your kind is aware of our plight and on both levels, physically and spiritually, is attempting to heal us and take better care of our needs, we are pleased to say that this is working and that as a result of this we are growing in strength and numbers again but the progress is slow and we need still constant assistance in this. This then is one of the reasons that I have come that you might be able to help us through the promotion of our cause and through the healing power of your music.

For your music is connected to the tapestry of light, the web of all that runs beneath the eye and ear and through this, when directed by your intent, this music can be sent and heal the very nature and power of our delicate etheric blueprint which has been so harshly damaged. I would encourage you then, I would entreat you to gather with others similarly motivated to join together in performing regular healing concerts for us that your combined powers might reach deep into the very fundamental of our origin, of that power that holds us to your world and heal us.

Of course I do not expect you to go unrewarded for such efforts, in fact I see a time this year when you will have need of that power which my hives possess and was originator of ... alchemy! For it was the Bee's who first brought this power to the Earth and allowed all variations of it, including the violet flame, to become. Alchemy as you know is the power to bring polar change to situations, things, people and energy. The alchemy of the Bee's is a powerful thing and can be wisely used in any and all aspects of your life, from what I see here in my high perspective, there will be a great need for this power of change by you later this year for a situation in which the violet flame will simply not do. At this time, with my permission, you may draw upon the golden light of my hive and ground this power through the ingestion of my Royal jelly which can be drawn spiritually directly into your pineal centre as well as physically ingested orally through those distillations of this precious material prepared by man.

As for your thirst for my knowledge and power, your desire for my secrets and mysteries ... ah well this is something which although you may not feel now will undoubtedly come! For situations in life will facilitate this need and you will find that your exploration of my mysteries will take you once again back to this letter, back to my mysteries and my portal and to those others who have plundered the depths of my knowledge before you. The Shamans who have initiated themselves into my truth, the new age channels who have aligned themselves to my power, the artists who have recreated my visage in an attempt to access my power. All these and more, all these and me will yield the mystery that you are searching for and set you free as a result of it. So ... when these times come, remember me!

Beloved daughter of the Lady read well and drink deep of my words, saturate yourself in my power and my truth be aware of my presence around you in the world through my hive. I come to you in love and light that we might in the future work together to bring new hope and love to the world through the greater existence of my species and through that way in which you will utilise my gifts in your own life. Be bold then and believe for you have been touched by the great Queen of Bee's and as such illuminated by her gold. Go in love and light beloved one and remember well these words of truth and light. So mote it be.
